NOW VISION

NOW has a bold ambition to launch the world's first AI-powered Operating System for Local Life.

Every generation creates a new category-defining technology company and that company is NOW!

One Global Vision. One Marketplace. One Intelligence. Millions of Connections.

Just as operating systems became essential for smartphones, intelligent territorial platforms will become essential for cities. Users will tap directly into the pulse of their territory and intuitively access whatever desires they have at any moment. Ready for an amazing dinner? Need a relaxing massage? Looking for Jazz Music?

NOW is building the digital infrastructure capable of connecting every person, every business and every opportunity inside any territory. Our goal is to launch our mobile application across thousands of territories.

The NOW Executive Team is ready to begin building the future of Local Life. Our team of experts is uniquely positioned to quickly bring this revolutionary concept to market.

Below is some information on our founding team members.

NOW EXECUTIVE TEAM

Touchet Benjamin - NOW Founder

LinkedIn Profile

Benjamin is a creative founder, executive, and entrepreneur living in Seignosse.

He is the founder and head of Sud Terrasses, a company specializing in the design and construction of exotic wood decking in the Landes and Basque Country regions of France.

With nearly 20 years experience as an entrepreneur, Benjamin has developed and managed companies from inception to execution, overseeing the overall vision, business development, client relations, and daily operations.

He founded NOW to transform how we discover and decide what to do locally by connecting people, places, activities, and opportunities available all around us in real time.

Benjamin has formed an agile team of innovators to use Artificial Intelligence to build a platform that connects every local opportunity into one intelligent ecosystem where discovering, booking, sharing, and enjoying happen instantly.
